- PUBLIC DIPLOMACY IMPACT -

Lack of J-1 Visa Exchange Visitors hamstrings U.S. public diplomacy goals by taking away a key positive U.S. experience from tomorrow’s international leaders, and preventing them from engaging with their American host communities.

Host employers across America agree or strongly agree that Summer Work Travel and Camp Counselor participants:

- Enable U.S. based staff to gain a better understanding of other cultures
- Contribute to a positive culture in the workplace
- Make the community more sensitive to other cultures

“Seasonal staffing shortages meant we didn’t open the majority of the hotel properties and dining venues throughout our AK-based system.”

- Hotels & Restaurants in Denali National Park, AK

“The greatest impact can be seen in the lasting relationships that our staff has come to cherish. This program opens doors for J-1 students to experience cultural exchange but it also opens doors for American workers to establish relationships all around the world.”

- Amusement Park in Keystone, SD

“Exchange participants provide fantastic cultural exposure to the local community and also support the local economy by renting accommodations, purchasing goods and gifts for their families.”

- Restaurant in Dennis, MA

“We were forced to close off room reservations and not operate at 100% occupancy, our restaurant was closed for part of the season and we are still not able to open for lunch.”

- Hotel in Homer, AK

“Participants enrich our resort year after year with a combination of enthusiasm and culture. They introduce our chefs to international cuisine, which in turn is shared with our guests and staff.”

- Ski Resort in Park City, UT

“Everything had to be cut back as there was no staff. As the owner my hours increased drastically. Now I am totally exhausted from this year.”

- Restaurant in Seward, AK
